

Ingleside at Rock Creek Names Dr. Rosalind Wright as Director of Health Services

Health Care Leader Will Oversee the Five-Star Medicare-Rated Health Services Center

WASHINGTON – Ingleside at Rock Creek \(IRC\) announced that Rosalind Wright, DNP, RN-BC, RAC-CT, CNHA, Fellow, has joined as director of Health Services. A CARF-accredited continuing care retirement community located in northwest Washington, D.C., Ingleside at Rock Creek is one of the three not-for-profit communities operated by Ingleside.

Wright comes to Ingleside at Rock Creek with more than 30 years of progressive leadership, clinical, health policy and management experience. Her expertise includes various health care delivery systems, including acute care, long-term care, assisted living, hospice, dementia care and academia.

Wright will oversee the 60-bed licensed health center that provides short-term rehabilitation, long-term nursing care and secure memory care as a component of IRC's continuum of care. The health center provides IRC's active independent living residents with the security of knowing nursing care is available on-site if needed. The Health Center focuses on person-centered care and maintains the highest rating of 5-stars from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services. Admissions may also originate from the local community and are not limited to IRC residents.

“Dr. Wright brings her passion for quality care and service as well as her incredible knowledge, to her role of promoting health and wellness for residents across our continuum of care,” said Catherine Scott, Ingleside at Rock Creek executive director. “She will be an asset to our organization as we continue to develop our progressive programs in rehab, dementia care, wellness and health services to meet the needs of our current residents and prepare for the projected 2019 opening of Creekside, our beautiful new addition.”

She is active in the health care community, including the DC Health Care Association, American College of Health Care Administrators, American Nurses Association, American Diabetic Association and the Sigma Theta Tau National Honor Society of Nursing. Wright has lectured at various universities and conferences, including American Health Care Association, DC Health Care Association, American Society of Aging and National Quality Forum. Additionally, she is an expert in the legal review of the Medical Record.

Wright received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Coppin State University, Master of Science in Nursing from the University of Maryland, Baltimore and a doctorate in Nursing Practice from Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing.

Previously, she was recognized as the DC Nursing Home Administrator of the Year and received the Eli Pick Facility Leadership Award from the American College of Health Care Administrators. Wright serves on several choirs at her church and on the Health Ministry where they were awarded a Community Service Award in 2016.

###

About Ingleside at Rock Creek

Ingleside at Rock Creek is a senior living community located in Washington, D.C., and is a member of the Ingleside family of communities. The not-for-profit continuing care retirement community provides residents independent living, assisted living, skilled nursing, memory care and rehabilitation services. Residents can engage in a wide variety of wellness and lifelong learning opportunities and access a broad range of services and amenities. Ingleside at Rock Creek is known for its support of local arts initiatives and resident life enrichment programs. For more information, visit www.ircdc.org. Follow Ingleside at Rock Creek on Facebook here.